A central belief participants should internalize regarding the nature of guidance is that it is a process intended to foster autonomy and critical thinking. Which statement reflects this belief?

Guidance is a solution aimed at providing ready-made answers.

Guidance is a process, not a solution.

Guidance must prioritize efficiency over educational quality.

Based on the ethical and digital principles, what is the mandatory relational element that AI supports but cannot replace in the guidance and training programs?

The use of anonymized personal data.

The educational relationship, attentive listening, or the professional's critical judgement.

The strict adherence to algorithmic output.
